Proposed Honor Spirit For COP

We, the students of the College of the Pacific, who have attended the Honor Seminar feel that there is a need for an honor code on our campus. We believe that there is a desire to establish such a spirit now and that such a code should be based upon building individual character, rather than the fear of punishment or severe penalties. The proposed Honor Spirit is a compilation of the feelings of the discussion groups. It is not final, but is open to suggestions and criticism from the student body.

Purpose:

1. To establish a spirit of mutual trust between students and between faculty and students.

2. To develop and maintain good character in the individual student.

Methods:

1. Individual pledge to be signed by the student (similar to PSA card).

2. Class room procedure:

A. Instructor should be able to leave the room after a 10-minute period in which he answers questions about the exam.

B. No proctors.

C. Testing will be confined to classes, but students will be allowed to take short breaks. (We saw no reason for the test to leave the room.)

D. Uniform tests. (This is left to the discretion of the professor.)

E. Recommended alternate seating. (This is left to the discretion of the professor.)

3. Study procedure

A. Establishment of a test library by all professors and the donation of all material in the sorority and fraternity files.

B. Returning of tests to the students is up to the discretion of the professor.

4. Any form of cheating in examinations or plagiarism will be considered a violation of the Honor Spirit.

Warning and Reporting

Procedure:

1. Small boxes will be placed in convenient locations throughout all classroom buildings. These boxes will contain slips which will be filled out by a student when he sees cheating. The slip should contain the name of the accused, the class, the date, the name of the accuser, and the names of several class members who also might have seen the cheating.

2. Only members of the Honor Court will have access to these boxes.

3. Upon notification of an offense, the Honor Court will summon the offender by mail.

4. The offender must appear before the Honor Court and state his plea.

5. If the accused should plead "not guilty," (knowing that, if proven guilty, his punishment

December 9 Set As Date Of The Messiah

A chorus of 450 voices, four soloists, and a full symphony orchestra will present the annual College of the Pacific-Stockton College production of Handel's Messiah at 3 p.m. on Sunday, December 9, in the Stockton Civic Auditorium.

Mr. Arthur J. Holton, COP and Stockton College choral director who will conduct the performance, has made the traditional music feature a central valley community event this year by enlisting singers from many church choirs and civic music organizations. They will add more than 250 people to the combined campus choruses of about 200 students.

The four featured soloists will be soprano Elizabeth Spelts of the Pacific Conservatory faculty; contralto Elva Lois Mailles of Tracy, who is director of the Tracy Choral Society; tenor William Thompson of Vallejo and Stockton, who is a student at COP; and basso Robert Oliver of Los Angeles, who is soloist at the Westwood Community Church there.

In addition to regular student rehearsals, Mr. Holton has been conducting Monday evening practice sessions for 115 free-lance singers. Many of these participants come from church choirs in Stockton, Linden, Lodi, Manteca, and Escalon.

Other organized units that have been rehearsing and will be participating in the December 9 performance are the choirs of Central Methodist Church, Grace Methodist Church, First Christian Church, First Congregational Church, First Presbyterian Church, and the Greek Orthodox Church, all of Stockton; the Tracy Choral Society; Stanislaus County Oratorio Society of Modesto; and the Oakdale Methodist Church Choir.

COP has presented the famous masterwork annually for more than 40 years, according to Conservatory Dean J. Russell Bodley. In 1926, he recalls, the production was sung from the stage of the Civic Auditorium, the first public event in the then new building. For the massive 1956 return, the chorus and COP symphony, which is under the direction of Mr. Arthur Corra, will be placed on the main floor.

Who's Who Nominates Nineteen COP Students

"Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities" is an annual publication that carries in it the names and biographies of the outstanding students in American colleges and universities. This semester 19 College of the Pacific students were selected for this honor.

The following students are listed with only their present office or service, but those are just the last of a long list of achievements. These students are all seniors who have been active in campus affairs throughout their college lives.

David TeSelle is a senior from Stockton. He is a member of Alpha Kappa Lambda fraternity and is an outstanding French horn player. He is also vice-president of Phi Kappa Phi and CSTA.

Bill Beck, Lodi, is a member of Alpha Kappa Phi fraternity and is now the treasurer of the Pacific Student Association.

Susan VanderLaan of Ripon is president of Kappa Delta, the national forensic fraternity. She is a member of Epsilon Lambda Sigma.

John Corson, from Modesto, is president of the Pacific Student Association.

"Fantasy In Frost" Tomorrow Night!

"Fantasy in Frost" is the theme of the annual PSA winter formal which will be held tomorrow night at the Stockton Ballroom from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m.

Ted Herman and his orchestra will provide the music.

All women students have been granted extended hours until 2 a.m. if they attend the dance.

Women will wear formals, while the men will be attired in tuxedos or dark suits. Corsages are in order for the girls.

PSA Social Chairman Sharon Eggerts is the general chairman of the dance. Committee chairmen are Bob Coon, decorations; Jackie Chong, bids; Marvel Watkins, refreshments; and Julie Keast, publicity.

All COP students and their dates are invited.

On December 13, the Music Department will sponsor a Christmas Convocation under the direction of Mr. Arthur Holton.

This program will be held at the regular Convocation hour, 11 a.m., in the conservatory.

PSA-CRA CHRISTMAS PAGEANT SCHEDULED FOR THIS SUNDAY

Christmas at Pacific becomes a reality this Sunday, December 9, as the annual Christmas Pageant begins at 7 p.m.

Jan Krahenbuhl has served as over-all chairman of this event, which is sponsored by the Pacific Student Association and the Council of Religious Activities.

Glen Davidson, in charge of the procession and of Conservatory arrangements, announced that the procession will begin at Alpha Kappa Lambda and will wind through the campus on its way to the home of President Burns, where the faculty will gather. He urged that all off-campus students join with their friends in a living group so that they may share more fully in the festivities.

Songleader for the caroling will be Maynard Bostwick, assisted by Johnny Wheeler. The depth of the beauty and the meaning of the procession depends upon the cooperation of the carolers. Students are urged to join in the spirit by paying close attention to the songleaders and by blending their voices in the joy that is Christmas.

Lynn Waterman, in charge of the tableau in the conservatory, announced changes in the program from that of last year. One-half of the living groups will give their choral selections before the tableau, while the remaining houses will sing after the scene has been presented. Another addition is that of a choral group accompanying the Nativity Scene tableau. This select singing body will be composed of two students from each living group.

The ceremony that surrounds the annual lighting of Stag Tree is headed by Maynard Bostwick. A brass quintet from Phi Mu Alpha, men's music fraternity, will begin the program. Following the lighting of the tree, John Corson, PSA president, will bring a message to the assembled group. Gifts from the houses will be placed under the tree, symbolizing the spirit of giving.

This act of sharing gifts will be the outward presentation of the drive for Toys for Tots that has been headed by Mary Ann Tuttle. Throughout the week, living groups have been collecting toys as a group contribution to needy youth. The toys will be collected from the houses on Friday, December 14.

Following ceremonies and caroling by Stag Tree, refreshments and songs will be presented and shared in Anderson Dining Hall. Carol Chappell and Louise Gilmore have headed preparations for this part of the pageant. Small groups of students will leave from the cafeteria to serenade the neighborhood.

Music arrangements have been made by Gwen Pearce. Sheryl Pickering has headed publicity.

Christmas on campus belongs to Pacific. All planners of the pageant urge students and faculty to share in the birthday of Christ.

- EDITORIAL -

Last week we printed the students' views on the cafeteria. This week we would like to present the dietitian's viewpoint. We discussed the problems at length with Miss Knauf, and we feel that she is genuinely interested in improving the situation. During our talk, several things were mentioned that students might do to help with this improvement (without cooperation between students and cafeteria staff, there can be very little done).

We pass along to you an open letter from Miss Knauf:

We sincerely appreciate the awakening effect of last week's editorial on the dining hall, for we can watch the particular items mentioned in the future. We would like, however, to have such items brought to our attention immediately so that we can take steps to remedy the situation as well as to prevent its recurrence.

We have the potential to be a superior college food service operation; but we will be only as good as you, our customers, help us to be.

What can you do?

We are able to serve 15 to 18 students a minute through the two lines. At this rate, we could feed our 600 guests in 45 minutes. You can help us achieve this goal by:

1. Using the racks in the hall between the dining room and social hall for books, rather than the dining room tables.
2. Remembering to bring your meal ticket and have it ready for the cashier to punch.
3. Taking one glass of milk when going through the west line and getting refills from either of the other milk dispensers.
4. Telling the servers how much or little, rather than waiting for them to ask you.
5. Staying in position in line. DO NOT CUT.
6. Being on time for meals. The breakfast line closes at 8:30 and the dinner line at 6:30 except on weekends.
7. Report to the Dining Hall Manager any instances of foreign particles in the food.

It would help us also if you would bring your valid criticisms and suggestions directly to the Dining Hall Manager.

If these few simple rules are followed by the students and cooperation is shown, it might be well reciprocated by the cafeteria staff, and there again will be harmony on the food front.

Administrative action Tuesday afternoon removed Archania's pledges from further affiliation with the house. Apparently, the decision resulted either directly or indirectly from Archite pledges' affair in Gridley concerning a certain bell they seemed to have designs on. The somewhat drastic move is another in the line of Administrative action to keep the fraternities of Pacific in strict harness.

Senate Bulletin Board

By ELKINS

Most people, nowadays, are quite immune to stories of revolts and uprisings in European and South American countries; yet during the past month the people of the world have opened their hearts and their pocket-books to aid the people of a small country who can still see the light of freedom burning through years of Communist occupation. The massacre that occurred in Hungary is one of the most horrible in many years — women, children, and even babies were slaughtered like cattle by the forces of a power which is filled with fear at the sight of its satellite countries asserting themselves. Yet in spite of the killing and death and destruction, the people of Hungary are still in revolt, and college students all over the United States are aiding these people to the tune of many thousands of dollars.

It would be easy for the students of Pacific to advocate a donation of money from PSA funds, but the members of the Senate and of the committee which is organizing this plan, under the chairmanship of Stan Daniels, feel that we should give of ourselves to a degree. Therefore we are advocating what we shall call "Operation Sacrifice Dinner" which has already been explained in your living groups. Briefly, this consists of a dinner, high in nourishment, yet low in cost — the balance saved from a regular dinner to go into the Hungarian Relief Fund. The Dining Hall and the fraternities and sororities are cooperating in this plan which the committee feels would make us a little more aware of the suffering in Hungary. Every night we get more than enough to eat, and one meal where we eat less than usual would provide money for these brave people and also make us somewhat more aware of the abundance which we enjoy every day of our life. The date for the "Sacrifice Dinner" is Monday, December 10, and I know the students of Pacific will follow the example set by colleges all over the United States by cooperating in this plan.

CSTA-CTA To Hold Executive Meeting

CSTA and CTA are holding their semi-annual meeting of the Executive Council in Los Angeles on December 7 and 8.

Robert Dessaussois, president of the local CSTA chapter, and Mrs. M. O. Pease, sponsor, are attending.

The next regular meeting of CSTA will be held on Wednesday, January 9, in the Anderson "Y" upstairs. There will be a panel of student teachers.

OUR Y

BY DIANE O'ROURKE

Hi, Kids! Have you heard? Tuesday night, December 11, Anderson Y is holding a membership dinner. It will be held from 6 until 7:30 in the small dining room. Steve Henry, chairman of the dinner, wants everyone to know that Dave Telle will lead group singing, and that Dorothy Busher will arrange entertainment from the freshman class.

Three outstanding personalities will speak briefly concerning the Y at COP. President Burns, who during his student days at COP was president of Anderson Y, will share with us "What the Y Means to Me."

Mr. Robert Matzke, Pacific Southwest Area Executive of the Student YMCA, will discuss "New Frontiers for the Campus Y." "Bob" Matzke, a native Californian from Porterville, has attended the University of Southern California and Yale University. From 1942 to 1947 he was in the US Navy, serving in the Pacific and on the West Coast. In 1947 he became Program Secretary at the University of Illinois YMCA and assumed the position of General Secretary of the Indiana University YMCA in 1950. In 1951 he received the Junior Chamber of Commerce Citizen of the Year Award in Indiana. Bob will bring to this meeting an unusual range of experience and skills and a reputation for leadership training and development for us to draw upon as we develop the expanding Y program at COP.

We will have a turkey dinner with all the trimmings. The cost of the dinner, which will be served, will be 25 cents with your meal ticket, and $1.50 without one. If you live in a sorority or fraternity house, please make arrangements with your house mother concerning the cost. We look forward to seeing everyone at the dinner!

BLOOD BANK:

It's still not too late to give blood for Asilomar! Even if you are not attending Asilomar, you can help others by donating your blood. The Stockton Blood Bank will then give the Y $10 for your pint of blood. Remember, if you are under 21 you must obtain your parents' permission. Giving your blood will in no way weaken you to any great extent. Coach Van Sweet says that his basketball players are allowed to play 24 hours after giving their blood. Organizations and individuals are encouraged to help this program. Alpha Kappa Lambda and Tau Kappa Kappa are lending their services to the students by giving. Not only will you be helping yourself and other fellow students, but you will help those who need to draw blood from the bank, often in an emergency.

ASILOMAR:

Speaking of Asilomar, we are on our way to having a large delegation from COP. So far, 17 students have signed up to attend the conference, and the enthusiasm keeps mounting.

Saturday, December 1, Tom Clagett, Y Executive; Janet Mathiesen, Y Secretary; and Marianne Tuttle attended an Asilomar Training Day at the University of California in preparation for the conference. Marianne, who is chairman of the COP delegation, says that the Training Day helped her to organize her thoughts about Asilomar.

Phi Kappa Phi Meet Hears Dr. Beckwith

Dr. Arthur Beckwith, chairman of the Department of Business Administration, was the main speaker at the second meeting of Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society on Wednesday, November 28.

Dr. Beckwith spoke on the subject of big business. He discussed the question of whether business is bad because it is big and what people in other parts of the world think about American big business.

This past summer, Dr. Beckwith attended two seminars in the field of business; one in New York City and the other in Detroit, Michigan. The latter was under the auspices of the Ford Motor Company. Here Dr. Beckwith was a member of a group of college professors who had been invited by the Ford Motor Company to attend a series of discussions on the function and value of big business, especially as illustrated by the automobile industry.

The following students were elected to membership in Phi Kappa Phi and will be initiated at the January meeting: John Corson, Mrs. Barbara Cutler, Stan Daniel, Mrs. Edna Dyke, Thomas Green, Clarence Irving, Ruby Kim, Patty Lou Lloyd, Dora Maupin, Susan VanderLaan, William Bristow, Alberta Fedler, and Mrs. Janice Krahenbuhl.

THOUGHTS IN PASSING

By RON OHLMEYER

So much has already been said about Christmas, which, in itself, is an understandable tribute. Certainly we do not possess the competence necessary for conveying an appropriate message concerning the true meaning of this festive day. Perhaps, then, we are justified in presenting a holiday commentary in the lighter vein.

Billions & Beam. Christmas means many things to many people. It can be the story of our lives, ending in a state of dissipation, conservation or a simple and commoner known as Financial Damnation.

Christmas is a billion-dollar industry. It is anticipated that the 1956 holiday period will witness the most fantastic individual money-binge in the history of the nation. The Christmas tree and greeting card businesses alone have become highly profitable activities, and the financial position in which we place ourselves during the holidays can be evidenced by the sudden increased concentration on advertising exerted by private loan companies.

Christmas is a contrast. It can be the unique combination of your bank account gone nil, while at the same time you're the recipient of a dozen expensive gifts over which you've exclaimed, "It's just what I wanted," accompanied with a simultaneous thought that you'd just as soon exchange them all for a fifth of Jim Beam.

The problem of gifts is a burden which all of us share in common. It's not that manufacturers have failed to produce novel and/or original products, but rather that too many people already have too many things. We cannot offer a solution either. In the current issue of a reputable magazine, we did, however, discover an advertisement labeled, "Something Different for Folks 'Who Have Everything!'" The product in question turned out to be an Amazon Jivaro Shrunken Head which could be ordered from a "studio" in Pittsburgh, Pa. If you have the type of friends who might appreciate shrunken heads, perhaps your gift-giving worries are over after all.

Tom, Jerry and Junior. It has often been said that Christmas is for the children, which is one reason why it has not only become an extreme, but a costly one as well. There was a time when a decorated Christmas tree was considered somewhat of a luxury. Now the kiddies are satisfied only with the most expensive firs, more than likely sprayed gold, silver, or a pious pink. Junior has come to prefer miniature Jaguars to the conventional sled or roller skates, will have totaled it out by February, and then demand a boy-size spaceship with jet propulsion.

Aside from the children, at Christmastime everyone drinks Tom and Jerries, egg nogs, or hot buttered rums. There are several reasons for this, all of them being that they contain liquor.

The holidays are ordinarily culminated in an atmosphere reminiscent of a hospital ward, if not a mental institution. As soon as the new year is in progress, the medicine cabinet is in dire need of replenishing, from the popular remedies and local cure-alls to anti-everythings consumed with great expectations about the 20th of December.

Psychiatrists claim there are marked increases in "abnormal mental conditions" with the end of each year. On the other hand, the merry month of December has never been known to contribute anything to the improvement of ulcers and, in some specific cases, is only beneficial to victims of insomnia.

A Christmas Greeting. We are, however, more inclined to believe that Christmas is, after all, for Everyone. In our world of physical and mental conflict, it is a time for Hope. It is a time for expressing our common brotherhood between friends and to countries and nations dedicated to peace.

As it is intended that this column will be replaced in the next issue by a special Christmas feature, we would like to take this opportunity to wish you and your families a Very Happy Christmas. Our further hope is for Peace in the New Year—Peace in the world, which will bring Peace for us all.

SEE YOU—IN PASSING!

Notes From The Play Bill "THE TIME OF YOUR LIFE"

By STEVIE CHASE

From William Saroyan:

In the time of your life, live—so that in that good time there shall be no ugliness or death for yourself or for any life your life touches. Seek goodness everywhere, and when it is found, bring it out of its hiding-place and let it be free and unashamed. Place in matter and in flesh the least of the values, for these are the things that hold death and must pass away.

Discover in all things that which shines and is beyond corruption. Encourage virtue in whatever heart it may have been driven into secrecy and sorrow by the shame and terror of the world. Ignore the obvious, for it is unworthy of the clear eye and the kindly heart. Be the inferior of no man, nor of any man be the superior. Remember that every man is a variation of yourself. No man's guilt is not yours, nor is any man's innocence a thing apart. Despise evil and ungodliness, but not men of ungodliness or evil. These, understand. Have no shame in being kindly and gentle, but if the time comes in the time of your life to kill, kill and have no regret. In the time of your life, live — so that in that wondrous time you shall not add to the misery and sorrow of the world, but shall smile to the infinite delight and mystery of it.

Here you have the philosophy of Joe, the little man with the big heart whom you can find in Nick's Pacific St. Saloon, Restaurant, and Entertainment Palace tonight and tomorrow night at 8:30.

There is nothing outstanding about Joe's appearance. He would never stand out in a crowd. You have to talk to him, and then you see the difference. He doesn't rush through life finishing one thing just so he can start another. He thinks about it, and about all the kinds of people who make this wonderful old world what it is. But he doesn't just think. No, the big quality about little Joe is that he changes the lives of all with whom he associates. He makes them see the beauty that is theirs in the time of their lives.

There is Tom; Joe once saved his life, and has now opened the doorway to future happiness for this confused, unhappy boy.

Kitty Duval, a prostitute who, beneath her bitter shell, is a good woman gone wrong through circumstances, tells Joe about her dreams, and he shows her that they can come true through love and understanding.

Nick, owner of the Entertainment Palace, doesn't quite understand Joe at times, but like everyone else, he likes him. He has the difficult task of keeping the streetwalkers out of his "joint" so that the cruel, sadistic Blick won't cause trouble and hurt someone. Nick is hard-boiled, but his generous sympathetic nature is revealed when he gives jobs to Harry, a down and out dancer-comedian who makes people cry, and an undernourished pianist who "plays better than Heifitz."

Streetwalkers, a newsboy who wants to sing, a heart-warming old trapper with charm and tall tales are some of the cross-section of life who meet in Nick's.

This is a play which vividly depicts life as few, if any, of us will ever see it. It is proof that no matter how cruel the world may seem, if we look we will find that, as Krupp says, "this is a good world." There is a purpose for living the time of your life.

VanderLaan-Smith Engagement Revealed

A treasure hunt at Epsilon revealed the engagement of Susan VanderLaan and Raymond Smith on Tuesday, November 20.

After the hunt, Mrs. Connor, housemother at Epsilon, read a poem. The traditional candy was passed.

Susan is a senior majoring in history. She is president of Knolens, and last year she was PSA secretary.

Ray graduated from California Polytechnic College in 1953. He majored in architectural engineering and is now employed by Kingsford Jones in Menlo Park. While in college Ray was basketball manager and a member of Blue Key.

NEW WOMEN'S DORM OUTLINED

The original architect's perspective drawing of the new Pacific dormitory and dining hall, to be erected in the plot west of the Morris Chapel in time for use by the fall of 1958, is now on display in Anderson Dining Hall.

Accommodations for 400 girls will be provided by the new building, which is the largest structure yet planned for the COP campus. In addition to its 200 double, two triple, and six single residences rooms, the three-story building will include two dining halls and kitchens, six study rooms, two social halls, a main lobby, lounges on the first and second floors, two guest rooms, two rooms for supervising residents, and a library.

A government housing administration loan of $1,400,000 has been approved to finance construction of the building; but funds for all furnishings and equipment, expected to cost about $329,000, must be developed by COP from private sources. This is the principal object of current finance campaigns being pushed by the College Office of Development. It is also the special target of the Pacific Associates, a statewide college-boosting organization.

Pacific's present and pressing problems of living and eating facilities will be largely resolved when the new building is occupied. At that time, the South Hall-West Hall unit will become a dormitory for men.

Present dining hall space virtually will be doubled by the new facilities. The building will also mark a great step forward in social and recreational space for students.

Meanwhile, a one-year remodeling and re-equipping program is underway in the present college dining hall. A new dishwashing unit is now installed and in use, and other kitchen improvements are slated.

The present system of serving lines will prevail through the current school year; but, by the fall of 1957, the system is expected to be revamped, removing all the serving counters from the dining room area and putting them within the kitchen area. It is hoped that there will be new tables and chairs in the main dining hall by that time. In total, the Board of Trustees of the college has authorized expenditures of $50,000 for the entire kitchen-dining hall improvement program.

South Hall Takes Basketball Tourney

Pacific's WRA basketball tournament between the women's living groups was held on November 19, 28, and 29 in the gym.

On the first night of the contest, South Hall beat Alpha Theta, Epsilon beat Zeta Phi, and West Hall won its game against Tau Kappa.

In the next series of games, South Hall and West Hall were victorious.

In the play-offs, South Hall defeated West Hall by 14 points, and, for the second successive year, regained the perpetual trophy which is given to the winning team each year.

South Hall Presents Decoration Awards

South Hall winners for the most attractive door decorations were announced following the hall's Christmas tea last Sunday.

First place went to Room 214—Linda Getchell, Polly King and Ruth Ann Thorkelson; second place, to rooms 124 and 125—Tanya Desatoff, Barbara Mitchell, Sherril Pickering and Patricia Stevens; third place, to Room 115—Phyllis Herbert and Marcia McMullen. Judges were Dean Davis, Dr. Coffey, and Dr. Beckwith.

ADALINE'S WISDOM FOR SOPHISTICATES

Dear Addy,

It's getting about that Christmas card sending time again, and I wish you'd tell me how I can send cards to all my friends when I don't know where they live. I never remember to get everybody's address, and then I get stuck. What can I do about this?

Forgetful

Dear Forgetful,

The Knolens are putting out student directories, with the names and addresses of every COP student. They'll be on sale soon, and they should solve your problem.

Dear Addy,

I'm in a rather uncomfortable position, to say the least. I asked this girl to give me a pair of her undies for Hell Week and thought she'd be a pretty good head about the whole thing. So what does she do? Do I get a nice soft pair of cottons or flannel or something? Oh no! Black lace jobbers lined with sandpaper yet! So, you see, I really am in an uncomfortable position. What should I do?

A Phoo with a Problem

Dear P.W.P.,

Maybe the voice of experience, Bruce Gledhill, could give you some advice!

Dear Addy,

What's the matter with youse guys? I happened to meander into that what you call "honor" business last Wednesday morning. And some young whippersnapper was saying that all of usuns here at this boomin' institution ain't got no honor so on of these here systems wouldn't ever work. I wish to call that guy a "— — ." I maybe ain't got what somuns have when ya' start talking about that there thinking matter; but, man, I got honor. I am saying that every last man of us has got it. I guess maybe we sort of bury it, but, man, it's there. Well, Addy, I guess that's my say. I don't really need any old reply. I just wanted to wag my tongue a little.

Seen at the Alpha Theta "Ivy League" last Friday night were Marilyn McDougal and Stan Emerson, who wore striking twin outfits composed of yellow shirts with oversized pink buttons on the collars and "Levis" with tin Ivy league buckles on the back. Also seen were Shane Eggerts and Frank Montabana, who wore twin red shirts. Bruce Gledhill and Barbara Nearon really cut a rug with bermudas and wild antics. More stripes, checks, and plaids were Ruthie Simonsen and Jack Bybee, Pat Lind and Don Landeck, Sharon Hanley and Phil Gainsborough, Marlee Stark and Bill Ronaldson, Sue Scrivener and Bill Striegel, Jan Gaston and Bob Coronado, Joan Bender and Larry Stuart,

Santa Fe Makes Gift To College Foundation

Dr. Robert Burns, president of COP and president of the California Independent Colleges Foundation, disclosed recently that the Santa Fe Railroad has made a $10,000 gift to the foundation.

Dr. Burns said the $10,000 will be shared by the eight foundation members, which includes Pacific, with 60% divided equally and 40% divided on the basis of enrollment. The division will give Pacific approximately $1,500.

Other members of the foundation are St. Mary's College, University of Santa Clara, University of San Francisco, Dominican College of San Raphael, College of Holy Names in Oakland, College of Notre Dame in Belmont, and the San Francisco College for Women. The foundation was organized by these institutions to appeal to industry for grants.

The foundation gift is part of a $250,000 grant being distributed by the Santa Fe to colleges in the seven states served by the railroad.

Dean of Men

Dean Betz has announced that students who are members of De Molay can apply for the Ensign Mayo De Molay Loan Fund to meet college expenses.

This loan fund, established in 1946 at College of the Pacific by Ensign Joseph Sherwood Mayo, provides for scholarships up to $500 per year for fees, tuition, and living expenses for each recipient.

The basis for the award of the loan is generally superior scholastic rank in the upper twenty percent of his class, activity in school affairs, demonstration of leadership and good character, activity in De Molay, and financial need, together with a general aptitude for advancement.

Students wishing to apply for a De Molay loan should do so by the close of next week.

The loan, without any interest, should be repaid in monthly installments following graduation by the student.

HONOR SPIRIT

will be more severe than if he admitted guilt) the accuser and any witnesses shall be summoned to testify against the accused. They will appear in one group so that the identity of the accuser will remain unknown. It is the duty of the student to testify truthfully, and, if this fact is realized by everyone, hard feelings will be minimized.

6. If the accused pleads guilty, the punishment administered should be a final warning. If proven guilty, this final warning will be recorded on a card to be kept on file by the Honor Court.

Honor Council

1. Five upperclassmen chosen by the PSA Executive Committee will sit as a council for these reported violations. No faculty will be present, but the verdict will be subject to the approval of the administration.

Court Procedure

1. All court proceedings will be held in the strictest confidence.

2. Each case will be tried individually, not regarding past decisions in regard to punishment, but with consideration to degree of cheating and penalty.

3. The names of the offenders will not appear in the Pacific

Weekly and the offense will not be recorded on the student's official transcript.

4. Punishment will be limited to these forms after a final warning is received:

- A. F in the examination
- B. F in the course
- C. Suspension for one semester
- D. Expulsion from school

It is hoped that each member of the student body will read and carefully consider the proposed Honor Spirit. At the seminar it was felt that we could establish a system of which the entire campus would be proud. The code will help to raise the personal and academic standards of Pacific. The code is not complete unless you, as a student body, react to it. Please talk to Honor Committee members and find out the facts instead of rumors. Our consideration of an honor code shows our school spirit at work.

New Trainee Program

College students can now obtain practical experience in Federal work-study programs, W. A. Foley, director of the Twelfth Civil Service Region, announced recently.

THE FROST IS ON THE PUNKIN and the fodder's in the shock, not to mention that, for the most part, the pads and jerseys are back in the lockers for another year.

The majority of collegiate football action has come to a close which means that All-Americans are being chosen, bowl teams are tuning up, and groundskeepers are cleaning up the mess left in football stadiums due to internal disorders.

Just this week Paul Hornung of Notre Dame was awarded the Heisman Trophy for the Outstanding Football Player in the land. Personally, we had Ron Kraemer of Michigan tabbed for this honor, who starred at end for the Wolverines this season.

SPEAKING OF HONORS, JOHN NISBY recently selected Lineman of the Year by Northern California Sportswriters, was chosen for action in the East-West Shrine Game, along with teammate Galen Laack. Both have been sensational in their efforts for the Tigers this year.

Before we forget, may as well have a try at our own little All-American squad. We pick:

E—Ron Kraemer, Michigan
E—Bill Steiger, Washington State
T—John Witte, Oregon State
T—John Nisby, COP
G—Jim Parker, Ohio State
G—Paul Wiggin, Stanford
C—Jerry Tubbs, Oklahoma
B—Jim Brown, Syracuse
B—John Brodie, Stanford
B—Tommy MacDonald, Oklahoma
B—Paul Hornung, Notre Dame

The pros have just about wound up the slate also, and the 49ers, who were tabbed by pre-season "experts" to better their mark of last year, were what amounts to a miserable disappointment. Clyde Conner, ex-Tiger, finished second on the team in pass receptions, with Billy Wilson of San Jose State coming out on top.

Basketball NOW TAKES THE LIMELIGHT in the sports world, taking a quick breather on January 1 for the bowl contests. The casabans around the nations are popping their spheroid through that ridiculous little hoop and walking around campus stepping on trees, sports cars, etc., etc.

The Pacific hardwooders figure to go places in the CBA, up we hope. The Russell-less USF squad continues to roll merrily on its win-happy way, crushing foes under the weight of an ominous past record and plenty of points, which helps too.

FRANK MONTABANO JUST TOLD ME I had to fill up the remainder of the space allotted in this column. Frank does not seem to comprehend that there is nothing more to say in a sporting vein. We could discuss the world situation, review a couple books, or possibly converse on sex (oops, it slipped out). But not now. If we had some pledges to think up ideas for us it would certainly alleviate the problem, but we are fresh out of pledges. Or had you heard?

Nisby, you rascal!

Tigers Hand 65-47
Loss To Chico State

By JOHN FELIX

Pacific's Tigers won the first basketball game of the season against the Chico State Wildcats, 65-47.

It was very obvious that this was the first game of the year, as most of the Tigers showed stage fright. This fright helped quite a bit in giving Chico State a 24-19 half-time lead. The Tigers got off to a very bad start; but, after a few time-outs, the team finally started rolling.

It took the Tigers a few minutes to wake up out of their summer sleep; and, by the time of the awakening, they were behind. After missing too many shots, Bill Embree finally broke the ice in the Chico basket and scored the first points for the Tigers this year. He got another chance with a free throw, which went through the basket, too.

Chico came back with some more points, but the Tigers fought back and never got farther behind. Shots by Holliday, Vail, Flaig, Thomas, and Davis helped to keep the score close, but too many shots were missed. Coach Van Sweet started to use his reserves, but they couldn't keep the opponents from scoring, nor could they score any points. Dave Klurman, after a very bad start, was about the only one who finally found the basket. The half-time score was 24-19 in favor of Chico State.

What happened in the locker room during this half-time nobody knows; but, when the Tigers came back on the floor again to start the second half, they looked like a new team that just was starting the game. They used a full court press; and, before the Wildcats knew what had happened, they were behind 31-30 through six points by John Thomas and six points by Ken Flaig, who gave the Tigers the lead with a beautiful set shot from the outside. From here on, the Tigers went on to stay ahead. Now the whole team found the Chico basket; and, of the reserves, Jim Choate, especially, hit very well with seven.

Top scorers for the Tigers were John Thomas and Ken Flaig, with 15 points each. Next were Britt Vail with 10, Dave Davis with 8, Jim Choate with 7, Dave Klurman with 5, Bill Embree with 3 and Ed Holliday with 2.

OOPS!

Introducing Dr. Cobb

The busiest man behind the scene of the College of Pacific Athletic Department happens to be the gentleman who is least heard about and who receives the least publicity. He is Dr. Emerson J. Cobb, chairman of the Department of Chemistry and chairman of the Board of Athletic Control.

Dr. Cobb was born in Kentucky, where he spent the early part of his life. He received his A.B. from Union College in 1928 and his B.S. from the University of Kentucky in 1931. He went on to receive his Ph.D. from the University of North Carolina in 1941.

Dr. Cobb was married in 1929 and is the proud father of two sons, John Emerson, 23, and Benjamin, 21. He is very active in the Kiwanis Club, of which he is program chairman, and is a member of Central Methodist Church.

As chairman of the athletic board, Dr. Cobb is responsible for all the school's athletic programs. His department acts only as an advisory committee to Dr. Burns. Dr. Cobb has been a member of the board for five years and has been chairman of the board for the past four years.

Some of the decisions made by the board are the selection of coaches and athletic instructors, approval of the athletic budget, approval of the schedules of athletic contests, and work-aid, grant-in-aids, and scholarships. The board works together with the publicity committee.

Dr. Cobb's primary interest is to see that the athletic policy conforms to that of the academic policy. He believes that some education comes from the application of athletics in the college curriculum.

Dr. Cobb's interest in athletics stems from his college days. He played tackle in college and, in his senior year, was chosen All-Kentucky. After his graduation, he coached all sports in Kentucky high schools for ten years. During the war years, he was an assistant coach in North Dakota.

Although not much is heard about Dr. Cobb's efforts in the athletic department, he doesn't mind; as a matter of fact, he prefers to stay out of the public's eye.

With a chairman of this caliber, the Athletic Department is assured of smooth sailing and plenty of cooperation.

Nisby Brings Athletic Honors To Pacific

John Nisby, College of the Pacific's outstanding football tackle, was named The Outstanding Lineman of Northern California by the sportswriters of Northern California last week.

John, who was born and raised in Stockton, attended Stockton High School and Stockton College, where he was All-Conference in football. He then came to Pacific where, as a sophomore, he took over the first string tackle berth. He has been a permanent fixture in this position for the last three seasons.

After his first season of collegiate football, John was tabbed as a definite "pro" prospect, despite the fact that he played the last half of the season with two injured knees. At the end of his second season with the Tigers, he made Honorable Mention All-Coast and was elected Pacific's best defensive lineman by his own teammates. In this season, his final with Pacific, he was named on a number of Honorable Mention All-American teams throughout the nation.

To cap off a brilliant collegiate career, Nisby has just been selected to represent COP at the annual East-West Shrine game, which is to be played in San Francisco on December 31.

John is a sure bet to be among the first 10 draft choices picked by the professional football coaches when they convene in January.

Carroll Doty— Publicity Man Extraordinary

One of the oldest members of the athletic department staff, in point of service, is News Director Carroll R. Doty, who has been handling Tiger sports publicity since 1947.

Publicity is one of the largest items in the Pacific athletic budget. The News Service office, in addition to making available all information of Bengal athletic teams to newspapers, radio, and television, publishes all programs and keeps the statistical records for all of the teams.

Since taking over the publicity job 10 years ago, Doty has travelled approximately 109,000 miles by air all over the country in advance of the football squad. Normally, he spends the entire week in advance of a road game on the scene where the game is played.

The News Service of the athletic department is separate from the general college news office, which is operated by Arthur Farrey. Doty is directly responsible to Athletic Director Jack Myers.

A graduate of Pacific in 1947, Doty was editor of the Pacific Weekly his senior year and also served as associate editor of the Naranjado. He majored in journalism.

The Tiger publicist was born in Colusa and attended high school there, lettering in baseball as a pitcher for three years. According to Doty, he also was the "worst third string end in football Colusa ever had."

After two years at Yuba Junior College in Marysville, COP's sports-news director came to Pacific in 1943 as a Navy V-12 trainee. He graduated from Reserve Midshipman School in June, 1944, and served as an ensign and lieutenant (jg) overseas as skipper of an LCT for 19 months. He carries battle stars from the Pelilu and Bougainville campaigns.

Doty, who is 33, is married to Marcia Gray, society editor of the Stockton Record, and has a five-year-old son, Arthur. The

KNOW YOUR TIGERS

Dave Davis, former City College of San Francisco basketball star, is proving to be one of Coach Van Sweet's best basketball players.

Dave, who was born and reared in Texas, moved to San Francisco and began his freshman year of college at the City College of San Francisco. He played basketball at Pacific last year and did an outstanding job. He is counted on heavily this year to help the Tigers to a victorious season.

EAST-WEST GAME

Galen Laack and John Nisby have been chosen to represent COP in the East-West Shrine game. This marks the third time that two Tigers have been selected for this honor in one year.

In 1949, Eddie LeBaron and John Rhode were the first duo to be chosen. As a result, "Excellent Eddie" was awarded the Coffman Trophy as the game's outstanding player. This was the beginning of LeBaron's rise to his present position of quarterback with the Washington Redskins.

Last year the honor was again bestowed when Gene Cronin and family resides at 1105 Rutledge Way in Lincoln Village.

Intramural Basketball Gets Under Way Soon

The intramural basketball season will start as soon as school begins after Christmas vacation.

The league this year will consist of the National and American leagues. There will also be a Coast League for the substitutes.

The National and American leagues each will have play-offs at the end of the year. Each team will play one a week during the season.

Last year's winner of the Intramural League was North Hall, so it is the defending champion.

Following are the teams and their leagues:

A. D. Williams donned west wetsuits. Again, the game proved to be a stepping stone for a Tiger. Cronin's performance was brilliant that he was snatched by the Detroit Lions. He is now first string lineman on the Lion's defensive platoon. Williams is now serving Uncle Sam.

The pros will again be casting glances this year and it is quite possible that these glances will fall on Laack and Nisby as possibilities for pro berths next year.

Post-Season Activities

FOOTBALL

Now that football season is over, we thought the public would like to know what some of the players are doing.

Big John Nisby, All-Northern California Lineman of the Year is keeping in shape by playing handball with Floyd Weaver. Galen Laack, leading defensive player on the squad, is still recovering from a bruised elbow. Farrell Funston, one of the top ends in the country, is recovering from an operation on his leg.

Dick Bass, star halfback, is concentrating on his studies, as is fullback Ken Uselton. Big Adrian Vera and Joe Nichols spend most of their time studying, but they occasionally work at the ports. Little Jack Larshied has just about recovered from his injuries and spends a considerable amount of his time studying. Tom Flores, quarterback, and Bob Denton, end, also are catching up on their studies.

EVEN if you are just starting college in the "Class of 1960," we suggest that you take a long look at where you are going. Know, don't guess, what is offered by fields like engineering and science, finance, marketing and relations. Too often young people discover late in their senior year that they can't qualify for the career of their choice. Why be caught short? Selecting a career and knowing what is expected will make it possible for you to prepare for it now. Many graduates will find their place with industry.

General Electric is typical of many large industrial concerns. We employ over 27,000 college graduates from nearly 700 different colleges and universities. And our future, as the future of any progressive company, hinges on these people. Young men and women that have initiative, analytical and creative ability will make progress with industry. If you are interested, write for information about one or more of the programs listed on this page. These are the principal doorways to success at General Electric. The booklets can also be found at most college placement bureaus in a binder entitled "Career Information."
